22 cadets of SPI in Aurangabad make it to Indian Armed Forces

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Aurangabad: Twenty-two cadets of the Services Preparatory Institute (SPI) have made it to the Indian Armed Forces by cracking the rigorous selection procedure. While 13 cadets have been selected for the Indian Army, six have made it to the Indian Navy and three have been chosen for the Indian Air Force, an official release said on Wednesday.

SPI director Colonel Amit Dalvi said the successful cadets would join the 144th batch of National Defence Academy (NDA), Pune, and 104th batch of Indian Naval Academy (INA), Ezhimala, Kerala.

"While over seven lakh students across the country were in the race to join the Indian Armed Forces, we are proud that 22 cadets of SPI have made it there by clearing Union Public Service Commission (UPSC) examination and cracking the Service Selection Board (SSB) interview. The SPI continues to shine at the national level by producing more and more ca-

Desire to serve country, 5 father-son duos join army

AurangabadFirst looks at such families where both the father and son are serving in Indian Armed Forces

MANISH GAJBHIYE
AURANGABAD, AUG 14

The craving to serve the nation is the basic instinct of every Indian. Each one of us is trying to contribute in some way or the other in the process of nation-building. Nevertheless, when we think of nationalism and patriotism, the first thing that strikes our mind is the sacrifices made by the Indian Armed Forces.

Father-son duos from SPI

Commander Makarand Orpe & Cadet Vinayak Orpe

Col Shashank Sarode & Cdt Sumukh Sarode

The father-son duos from SPI who joined armed forces include Commander Makrand Orpe (Navy, SPI - 1990) and his son Vinayak Orpe (Cadet SPI - 2018 NDA), Colonel Shashank Sarode (Army - SPI - 1990) and his son Sumukh Sarode (SPI - 2018, NDA selection for Navy), Commander Surendra Goachke (Navy - SPI - 1998) and his son Yash Goachke (SPI - 2012 - Commissioned in Army) and Colonel Prashant Chandewar (Army - SPI - 1986) and his son Ishant Chandewar (SPI - 2014 - Training at IMA).

several members of a single family are in the army and Aurangabad takes pride in having a Services Preparatory Institute (SPI) which prepares students academically, mentally and physically for entry into the National Defence Academy and other Defence Academies.

When contacted, SPI officials told this scribe about five such families where both the father and son were trained by the SPI and now are serving in the armed forces.

1st SPI student to join Goa Academy

I was motivated to join the armed forces when I was in school, an Air Force officer, who visited our school guided us. After clearing the NDA examination, I opted for the Indian Navy. I was the first student from SPI to join Goa Naval Academy. I was selected as a submariner. Later, I did my specialisation in communication and electronic warfare. Presently, I am posted at Naval headquarters, New Delhi. It is indeed a proud feeling that two generations from my family are serving in the armed forces. My son Vinayak has been brought up in the environment of the military culture. It was his decision to join the forces. He has been selected in the army and will be joining soon.

—Commander Makrand Orpe, Indian Navy

SPI director Colonel Amit R Dalvi (retired), himself an SPI alumnus, says it is indeed an honour to shape the future of the second generation of cadets. It is a proud feeling for the institute and the government, as well. The second-generation cadets admitted to the institute are committed to achieving their goals

First in family to join army

I'm the first person from my family to join the armed forces. As my father was posted in Ordnance factory in Bengal, I used to visit the military station at Barrackpore and got fascinated with the military culture. I had made up my mind to join armed forces since childhood. When we came to Pune, I joined SPI and was selected for Air Force initially, but later I opted for the Army. First, I was posted in the artillery division and then in the aviation branch due to my passion for flying. I had worked on various frontiers, including Leh and Laddhak, Ambala and Kargil sector. Presently, I am posted at NCC Telangana battalion in Warangal. My son Sumukh had spent his childhood in the military surroundings and got motivated from there. A student of SPI, he passed the NDA examination with flying colours and got selected for Navy.

Important Question In Parents Minds…

Preparing For SPI…….
Will it affect the 10th Std Board Exam Preparation?

No….
Because SPI Syllabus Is Same As 10th Std CBSE And State Board Syllabus.
Preparing For SPI Will Only Means Revising 10th Std Syllabus with Another Approach… Thus It Will not Affect The 10th Std Board Preparation in Negative Way…
On Contrary It May Increase Your 10th Std Score….
The Classes Will be Stopped for 1 months Before 10th Std Exam And Will Resume Immediately After Exam.
